St. Julie's Catholic High School is a Notre Dame school and is a large voluntary aided Roman Catholic secondary school, predominantly for girls with boys admitted into sixth form. There are 1200 pupils on roll, 200 of whom are in the sixth form. St Julie's Catholic High School is located in the picturesque Woolton Village in the south of Liverpool. Woolton was once part of the ancient Childwall Parish and was one of the ten parish divisions mentioned in the Domesday Book survey of 1085-86:

Client Reference:

"We have been using Focus Fire and Security Limited for the past four years and they provide our school with complete peace of mind with regards to the safe security of our school establishments. Their excellent response to out of hours call outs is of particular note. Focus provides the full range of all our security services which has grown over the years because quite frankly they continue to offer a fantastic service at best value".
